

Who can access it?

Vero Thrive is available at no extra cost to eligible Vero Farm and Lifestyle Block clients.

This service is also available to the client's partner or spouse, children, parents and parents-in-law, making it a benefit clients can share with their wider family.*

How can brokers help?

Vero Thrive is an additional benefit of being insured with Vero, but clients may not know it's available to them.

You can help by:

- Mentioning Vero Thrive when talking to eligible clients at renewal or during regular check-ins
- Remind clients that the service is already included in their Vero cover at no extra cost
- Encourage eligible clients to register at Vero Thrive

Got questions about eligibility? Talk to your Business Development Manager.

Delivered by Teladoc Health

Vero Thrive is delivered by Teladoc Health, a global virtual care provider, with over 15 years experience in New Zealand, helping Kiwis easily access virtual care.

Health and wellbeing support, wherever your clients are in New Zealand

Empowering your clients' health journey means having access to the right support, when and where they need it.

At Vero we understand the challenges rural communities face, especially in getting the health and wellbeing support they need. Seeing a health professional can mean a long drive and time away from the farm with fewer options close to home.

Vero is here to help with Vero Thrive, a free service offering expert medical, mental health and wellbeing support from the comfort of home. Vero Thrive is included at no extra cost for clients with an active Vero Farm and Lifestyle Block Insurance policy, providing extra support when they need it.
